ENTERPRISE COHORT · SEVEN WEEKS

From using AI to building with it, in seven weeks.

Non-technical leaders who had never set up a connector, now running their own agents with scoped permissions.

WHO	BEFORE	AFTER
JPMorgan Chase Research and strategy team lead	Paid an outside vendor to tag every research piece. No in-house taxonomy, so the team kept hitting walls.	Building the firm's own paragraph-level taxonomy, approving every judgment call.
JPMorgan Chase Technology program management lead	Stand-up notes and a 13-program portfolio status pulled together by hand.	Two agents built inside JPMorgan: a stand-up summarizer and the portfolio report leadership asked for.
Target Regional corporate security leader	Quarterly building-access audits reformatted by hand. Peer benchmarks took months of off-the-record calls.	An audit workflow that compares quarters automatically, and a sourced benchmark deck taken to leadership.
PNC Private banking market leader	"I didn't know how to do any of this." Had never set up a connector.	Runs a weekly agent across four calendars with scoped permissions, and is sending PNC colleagues to the next cohort.
